The main goal of the project is to develop a template model of education of community interpreting and institutional translation considering the broader former analysis about the needs of the market of language services in the partner countries, and this in combinations of languages of the project partners, i.e. Dutch, Czech, Slovak, Polish, for which there isn't a fair amount of qualified translators and interpreters on the market.

The project is focused on the newest techniques of community interpreting and institutional translation through innovative digital learning materials and didactical tools, such as e-learning courses, translation technologies, language and terminology tools.
